CLIMATE REALITY LEADERSHIP CORPS TRAININGS CORPORATE GROUP OPPORTUNITIES

Learn how the climate crisis will transform business in the twenty-first century and how your company can take action and thrive.

OUR CLIMATE IS CHANGING. SO IS BUSINESS. ARE YOU READY?

You know the climate crisis will transform business in the coming decades. You know how impacts from extreme weather to spreading disease threaten supply chains and operations around the globe. You've heard that clean energy and real sustainability can not only solve this crisis but create tremendous new opportunities worldwide.

But do you know what all this means for your industry? Most important, do you know how your business can become part of the solution and thrive?

THE CLIMATE REALITY LEADERSHIP CORPS: WE'LL SHOW YOU HOW.

Join the Climate Reality Leadership Corps and learn from former Vice President Al Gore and field-leading experts how our climate is changing and how your business can take action and lead in the clean energy economy.

Become a Climate Reality Leader by attending an intensive, multi-day training where you'll:

- Gain a practical understanding of how our climate is changing.
- Learn about the risks to your business as global warming transforms natural cycles and human behavior.
- Hear how your business can seize the incredible opportunities created by the sustainability and clean energy revolution underway planet-wide.
- Learn how to spread the good news of climate solutions and a message that inspires from one of the best in the business: Vice President Gore
- Gain valuable insights into the latest energy policy and technology developments driving business solutions.

A GLOBAL NETWORK OF WORLD-CHANGERS

The benefits of becoming a Climate Reality Leader don't end there. By attending a training you'll have the chance to sharpen your communications and leadership skills by working with a host of renowned experts in the field.

By joining the Climate Reality Leadership Corps, you'll also join a network of over 17,000 proven business leaders and passionate individuals working to accelerate the clean energy revolution and solve the climate crisis. It's a global community of change-makers, leading the fight for healthy future, with Leaders joining forces to support and drive big steps forward in every sector.

LOGISTICS

Upcoming trainings in 2019 will take place in Atlanta, Georgia (March), Brisbane, Australia (June), and Tokyo, Japan (September). Trainings are free to attend. Participants are responsible for their own transportation to and accommodation during the event (most trainings take place at major hotels with onsite lodging).

For companies interested in sending multiple employees, we offer a streamlined application process and reserved seating options. We suggest a non-tax-deductible corporate conference fee of $500 per person to help offset the significant expenses involved. Individual attendance is not contingent on a fee and we encourage early applications for all as trainings fill quickly.
